Article text

The Alphacool Apex aluminium backplate is specially designed for the Intel LGA Socket 1700 to optimise the cooling performance of the Alphacool Eisbaer AIOs and XPX coolers.

The backplate replaces the standard Intel CPU mount on the back of the motherboard and prevents the LGA 1700 socket from bending when mounting the cooler. This serves to protect the mainboard and enables an even and perfect contact pressure for all Alphacool XPX CPU water coolers, Eisbaer AIOs and their Solo variants. All in all, this leads to a significant improvement in cooling performance.
