Article text

A water cooling system consists of many different elements such as pumps, radiators, cooling blocks, reservoirs and other components. The Alphacool AlphaTube HF hose offers the possibility to connect all components within a water cooling system quickly and easily.

Optics

In different vivid colors, clear and also UV-active. The AlphaTube HF tube offers a large selection of different colours and styles making it easy to find the hose that best suits your taste.

Application

The AlphaTube HF tubing has the perfect flexibility to be easily installed. It is flexible enough to be laid without effort, but at the same time rigid enough that it will not kink easily, even with tighter bending radii.

Available in different sizes

We offer the AlphaTube HF hose in all common sizes.
